

Emory University's Program in Ancient Mediterranean Studies

Announces the Spring 2016

Ancient Mediterranean Studies Colloquium Series

4:30 – 6:00 PM on Wednesday afternoons (usually)

Detweiler Seminar Room (Callaway S423)

January 20 – Claas Lattmann (Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel)

"I Cannot Call the Blessed Ones Gluttonous: Myth Criticism in Pindar's Olympian One"

February 17 – Joanna Mundy (Art History) * 5:00 pm * Note start time

"Domus and Insulae in the City of Rome: a Social Network Analysis of households in the 4th Century City"

March 2 – Judd Owen (Political Science)

"The Problem of Physis and Nomos in Aristotle's Politics"

March 23 – Cynthia Patterson (History)

"Metaphors of Body and Soul in the Phaedo: a view from the swamp of social history"

April 13 – Anthony Sciubba (History)

"Ancient Arbitration: Conflict Mediation in Late Antiquity"

Refreshments (as usual) will be served!

For further information or questions, contact
Cindy Patterson, Professor of History, cpatt01@emory.edu